“Fear is the primary culprit of unequally yoked relationships.”

Yes, fear-fear of not finding Mr. or Mrs. Right. It is so amazing how fear will cause us to settle for inequality to fill the void of loneliness, insecurity and/or depression. Most often, we are afraid to admit that we are NOT trusting God, so we pick up anybody to change them to appear as if they are heaven sent. If you want to find the person of your dreams there are some things you must know that are essential to find your soul mate and life mate. We call a portion of this “knowing how to crack the soul mate code.”

However, in order to find or be found by that person there is a code that you must know in order to discover your soul mate. If you can crack this code it would take you out of the dating scene and place you in the presence of the one that was destined to be your soul mate and life mate. You can know with complete certainty, no pie in the sky theories or hypothesis but a knowing and understanding of what it takes to find the love of your life. You came into this world with an inner knowing and an ability to open the relationship vault. You just don't know that you know and therefore you remain in ignorance and your soul mate remains out of reach. The infinite knowing that's inside of us will nudge us when the time is right as well as when the time is wrong.

Happiness belongs to you just as much as it belongs to anyone else and in our reports we will share with you some of the essential keys and code for finding the person of your dreams.

- Does it seem as if you will never crack the soul mate code?
- Does it appear that you were sent here without a code?
- Or, that no one took out the time to teach you the proper code?

We will equip you to crack the code and discover your soul mate through a systematic plan.

What should we do when life is pulling us in one direction and the people, places and things in our life is pulling us in a different direction? My friend, when we are being pulled, tugged and pressed, that's our sign to standstill. And, taking our time to make wise and sound decisions will keep us on track, regardless of the type of grip that life may have on us. Thinking about what we are doing before we do it, is a great way to stay on top of our game. We have to find a way to weigh the pros and the cons before making a permanent decision regarding something or someone that's designed to be temporary. Unwise decisions will keep us running from one thing to the next, or better yet, one person to the next; trying to find a quick fix or that quick niche that will pull us to and fro, not knowing which way to turn. Of course, we may want to fix whatever it is or plead our case, but there are times when patience is the key. As a matter of fact, it is best not to make decisions when we are stressed, pressed or confused.

In order to attract our soul mate, we must clear our mind first, evaluate the situation or circumstance and then make a decision if need be. This will definitely save time and energy from being wasted on undoing or redoing stuff that we should have waited on anyway. However, if you are comfortable where you are right now, then this report is not for you, but if you looking to make changes in your dead-end relationships then Click here for the report on "The Keys to Cracking the Soul Mate Code."
